"Every Brilliant Thing", a production of Virginia Stage Company, tells the story of a young child confronted with his/her mother's depression. The child's instinct is to try and cure their mother.

With this in mind, he/she starts curating a list of all the amazing things that the universe has to offer. "Every Brilliant Thing" is a life affirming story of how to achieve hope through focusing on the smallest miracles of life. The performance is approximately 60 minutes in length. There will be an opportunity afterwards for audience members to speak privately and confidentially with a healthcare professional, should they feel a need.

This performance is recommended for adults and children ages 12+.

A panel discussion and a Q&A session will immediately follow the performance with local health professionals and a member of the production.
